OPERATION

Milk froth expertise

Cappuccino, latte macchiato or caffè latte: we love that combination. Coffee and milk simply belong together. We are not alone in this opinion. One in four Germans regularly drinks cappuccino – and especially enjoys them when working from home.

But how do you create the perfect milk froth? In our NIVONA fully automatic coffee machines, various SPUMATORE work to boost your enjoyment. They all have one thing in common: creamy, delicious milk froth.

This requires milk with a suitable protein content. The more protein, the better the froth. When it comes to milk alternatives such as oat, pea or soy milk, we recommend using the barista version of the corresponding product. These barista versions create a better, more reliable froth.

You can pour yourself a cappuccino at the press of a button with our 7 series. These models and higher also include the Cappuccino-Connaisseur feature. You can choose whether you want the milk or the coffee in the cup first. A barista would put the coffee in first. That way the milk will envelop the coffee as it is poured in. But we don't want to tell you what to do – just try it for yourself.

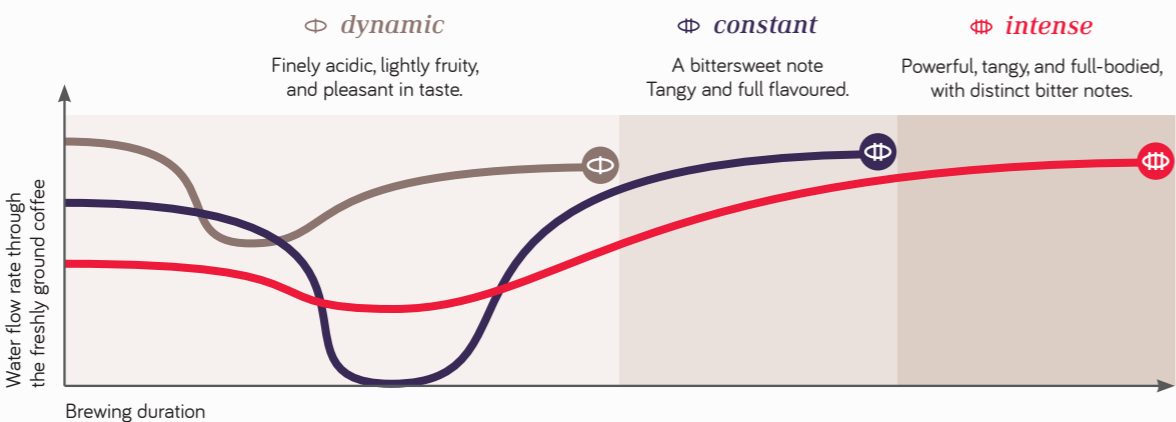

Because your taste alone decides!

Aroma Balance System

A coffee bean contains over 800 different aromas, which can only be unlocked if you vary the brewing process. Which is why our unique Aroma Balance System gives you a choice.

From harmonious mildness to full-bodied intensity, you can now set three different taste profiles. Available from our 6 series upwards. Get the best from every bean.

This is what the Aroma Balance System gets out of our Espresso Milano, for example.
